SUCCESS STORY

Chris's Journey Of Recovery And Renewal

Chris had a good childhood, but life took a turn when his parents divorced during his teenage years. Around that time, Chris began experimenting with drugs and alcohol, which quickly escalated into a substance use disorder. Despite holding jobs that ranged from low wages to a six-figure international career, addiction followed him everywhere.

Facing legal consequences, Chris decided to seek change. With support from his reunited family, Chris turned to Restoration Springs for transitional housing. Within a week, he secured a job, and two months later, he launched a fulfilling career. Most importantly, Chris has experienced incredible spiritual growth and is amazed at how God has transformed his life.

Now, with a supportive church family and a strong recovery foundation, Chris is thriving and moving to the Fayette community to embrace new opportunities.
